Another New Face on the Cooperative Landscape

We all love our pets - from cats and dogs to birds, hamsters and turtles. Americans lavish affection and money on their pets. But when our pets are sick, injured or hurting, we make a trip to the vet. There is now a cooperative for independent vet hospitals and clinics. This new cooperative provides a new way for vets to provide new offerings to their clients, increase profits, and compete against online brick and mortar retailers. Check out this new organization at www.theveterinarycooperative.coop.
